Chief Jeffrey E. Trickler
ANNUAL REPORT

Mission & Value Statement

The Geneva Police Department will deliver effective and responsive law enforcement services to all persons within the City of Geneva in a fair and equitable manner, respecting the rights of all regardless of race, creed, religion, sexual orientation, color or origin.

We are committed to making sure that every citizen with whom we interact is treated with dignity, compassion, and a sense of professionalism.

As an integral part of the Geneva community, we are committed to communicating with those that we serve, and strive to maintain the trust and confidence of our citizens while working to improve the quality of life for the entire community.

From the Chief of Police

Mr. Mathew Horn, City Manager
City Hall

Dear City Manager Horn:

On behalf of the dedicated men and women of the Geneva Police Department, it is my privilege to submit the 2013 Annual Report to you and the Geneva City Council.

A new unit was implemented this year which has proven to be a success. The Family Services Unit took on the responsibility of overseeing all domestic cases and investigating all missing person complaints. This unit has assisted families with getting them the much needed services they required.

Officers were given a new tool to use when being confronted by combative subjects. The department purchased eleven TASERS and every officer in the department was trained on the use of them. Officers have had to display the TASER on several occasions and the result was immediate compliance from the suspects. An officer did deploy the TASER during one incident in which an individual was resisting arrest. The TASER proved to be very effective and the suspect was taken into custody without further incident. The TASER program has, without a doubt, eliminated or minimized the risk of injury to both officers and suspects during hostile confrontations.

Officers responded to 22,559 calls for service which is a 10% decrease from last year. There were 944 individuals arrested for crimes or a violation which is a 5% increase from the last year. Officers remain vigilant ensuring the safety of those who travel our city streets and issued 2,927 uniformed traffic tickets while doing so.

Part 1 crimes reported to the Geneva Police Department totaled 372 representing a 10% increase. Part 1 crimes consist of two categories, violent and property crimes. Violent crime totaled 28 which is a 10% reduction from the previous year. Part II crimes consist of crimes not included in Part I and totaled 434. This is an 8% reduction from last year. Overall, the totality of Part I and Part II crimes saw a slight decrease of .12%

The department remains concerned regarding threats against officers and the narcotics and guns that appear within the city. During the year we have had one homicide and an officer involved shooting. We continue to make it a priority to investigate these crimes and to take into custody those who perpetrate them. We would not be able to do it without the continuing assistance from the various organizations and the community itself. With that, I would like to extend my sincere appreciation to you, along with the mayor and city council members for all the support afforded to the Geneva Police Department during the year. Most of all, I would like to thank all department officers, along with the District Attorney's office, City Attorney's office, police dispatchers, clerical, parking enforcement officer and the school crossing guards for their outstanding accomplishments.

Sincerely,

Uniform Force

The uniform force is comprised of 22 officers who cover four different shifts. They are supervised by six sergeants who are overseen by one lieutenant who reports to the chief. They patrol 4.5 square miles and protect a population of about 13,261 exclusive of students of Hobart and William Smith Colleges and Cornell University.

The uniform force is the first responding officers handling calls that come into police dispatch. Their response is first and gives aid and comfort to the injured. They handle complaints such as animal complaints but also conduct the preliminary investigations for more serious crimes such as homicides, rapes and robberies. They take a proactive approach to their patrol duties by looking out for suspicious activities and conducting property checks on residences, buildings and businesses.

The request for their presence at special functions steadily increases. They have been called upon to provide traffic control and/or security at numerous Hobart and William Smith events along with events such as American Legion Fireworks, FL Wine and Music Festival, Memorial Day Parade, June Happening, Crusin' Night, Musselman, Seneca7 Race, Martin Luther King Jr. Parade, Fireman's Parade, HOG Rally,

Aeneas McDonald Fallen GPD Officer

Halloween Parade and numerous races that run throughout the city. These events take planning and require numerous man hours. The responsibilities of the uniform force include parking enforcement, traffic enforcement, prisoner escorts, court security, and investigations, maintaining order at parades or public gatherings and community relations. Members of the force are also active in specialized units such as aids, instructors, accident investigations, hostage evidence technicians, evidence reconstruction, arson negotiations and bicycle patrol.

MOTOR VEHICLE ACCIDENTS BY MONTH

Motor vehicle crashes are the leading cause of death among those ages 5-34 in the U.S. More than 2.3 million adult drivers and passengers were treated in emergency departments as the result of being injured in motor vehicle crashes in 2009. The economic impact is also notable: the lifetime costs of crash-related deaths and injuries among drivers and passengers were $70 billion in 2005.

CDC's research and prevention efforts target this serious public health problem. They focus on improving car and booster seat and seat belt use and reducing impaired driving, and helping groups at risk: child passengers, teen drivers, and older adult drivers. CDC also works to prevent pedestrian and bicycle injuries.

Based on the magnitude of the health problem, and our ability to make significant progress in improving outcomes, Motor Vehicle Injury Prevention is a winnable battle we must all fight.

2013 OVERTIME

Regular and special overtime is calculated at a rate of time and one half only if the criteria specified in the 171/28 language is met.

Court and call out pay is calculated at either straight time or time and one half as per the Geneva City Police Officers' and Command Officer contracts.

REGULAR OVERTIME: This constitutes all overtime worked beyond a regular tour of duty and includes other cases, such as being called out for parades, to perform a Breathalyzer test, drug investigations, or some other department ordered function, as specified by the contracts.

During 2013, the regular overtime amounted to 1199.875 hours or 42% of the total number of hours for the year, this is an approximate 19% Increase in use from 2012.

COURT TIME: Those man hours listed as court time would include those hours when an officer was required to appear in court, whether in City Court, County Court, Grand Jury, Department of Motor Vehicles Hearing, or in any other manner required for the prosecution of a case. Court time for 2013 amounted to 334.625 hours or 12.0% of the Department's total overtime. This is a 55% percent increase of use of Court Time from 2012.

SPECIAL OVERTIME: Overtime accumulated by the Police Department in policing private or public functions sponsored by individuals or private organizations. These would include dances, ball games, or any other athletic event.

Officers accumulating this overtime are paid by the City at the regular overtime rate. The individual or organization is then billed by the Police Department and the City is partially reimbursed by the individual or organization.

In the year 2013, Special Overtime amounted to 1,325.25 hours, representing 46.00% of the overtime budget. This shows an increase of 8% percent from 2012.

PO David Felice
PO Randall Grenier

On September 6, 2013, about 2051 P.O. Felice, assigned to Seneca Parking Lot for the Oktoberfest, called out for an ambulance for a male possibly having a heart attack or stroke. Sgt. Valenti and P.O. Grenier arrived on scene as P.O. Felice was removing the AED from the trunk of GV9. The victim, Robert Buchholz 10/15/35 from Waterloo, NY, was unresponsive and barely breathing. P.O. Felice was checking vitals while Sgt. Valenti attached the AED. The AED indicated a shock was advised. Sgt. Valenti administered 1 shock. P.O. Felice immediately began chest compression while P.O. Grenier gave breaths. Geneva Fire Department and Finger Lakes Ambulance arrived on scene. Mr. Buchholz was transported to Geneva General Hospital and later transferred to Upstate Medical Hospital. According to Doctor Nicole Gero, attending physician, "the officers were instrumental in saving this man's life."

On September 7, 2012, at approximately 1901, Raymont T. Hromalik 08/03/1923 of Endicott, NY, walked into the PSB and collapsed. P.O. R. Peters yelled out to call an ambulance. P.O. Cole were checking for breathing and pulse, which they could find neither. P.O. Bielowicz had officers stand clear and a shock was delivered by the AED. The AED detected no heart rhythm and prompted CPR be started. P.O. R. Peters started chest compressions and P.O. Cole administered rescue breaths. After two complete rounds of CPR were administered Mr. Hromalik began to breathe on his own. Without their professionalism, a life would have most certainly been lost.

Distinguished Service Award:

The officers were able to wake all the occupants and evacuated them from the property, including one woman who had locked her door and was hiding. It wasn't until after all the occupants had been evacuated by the officers that the City of Geneva Fire Department arrived on scene. Responding Officers put their safety aside in an effort to save lives. They made the City of Geneva proud their brave actions stopped what could have been a terrible situation.

2013 DETECTIVE BUREAU

The detective bureau is comprised of two detectives and two youth officers who are supervised by one lieutenant who reports to the chief. The detective bureau handles a vast variety of investigations including narcotics activity, missing persons and major crimes such as homicides, robberies, aggravated assaults and burglaries. Detectives receive specialized training to assist their efforts. Unlike episodes of shows such as Law and Order many criminal investigations are time consuming and require extensive follow ups. Investigations dealing with the possession or sale of narcotics can take months to years to develop enough information or evidence to make an arrest.

The detective bureau is divided into three divisions consisting of criminal investigations, the Family Service Bureau and drug enforcement. Although these three units specialize in different areas they often work closely together to share information and investigate crimes.

The Criminal Investigation Division handles major crimes usually at the felony level and/or those crimes that are complex and require numerous investigative hours. The youth division investigates crimes where the suspects, and in some cases the victims, are juveniles. The youth division also handles those cases involving juveniles which are of the violation level and cannot be sent to family court. They are also the department liaisons for the Ontario County Child Abuse Response Team and the Juvenile Justice Committee. They work closely with the SRO's, Child Protective, Probation and the PINS and STAR program.

The DEU investigates cases which are associated with narcotics, gambling, firearms and prostitution. Members of the DEU also assist in the investigation of violent crimes. They work closely with local law enforcement agencies from surrounding counties along with state and federal agencies.

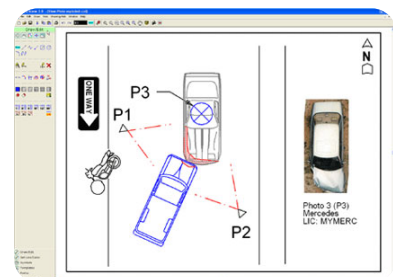

Along with their investigative duties members of the detective bureau also serve in specialized units such as evidence technicians, evidence aids, accident reconstruction, instructors and bicycle patrol.

During the year 2013 the detective bureau was assigned and cleared 972 cases. 242 cases were closed by arrest.

The detective bureau is also tasked with receiving all evidence or property. During the year 2013, 1776 items of evidence or property was received. Additionally, several hundred items of evidence or property were disposed of. The evidence or property that is not returned directly to the owner is auctioned off through Propertyroom.com or forfeited to the Geneva Police Department or City of Geneva.

The Detective Bureau also encourages its officers to take advantage of opportunities to educate and train the public about what we do and how we operate in an attempt to promote public support and involvement in the community. Members of the Detective Bureau have conducted presentations to community groups, college and high school students and businesses ranging from bank robbery training, crime scene processing, fraud prevention, and workplace violence and safety.

2012 & 2013 PART ONE UCR OFFENSE

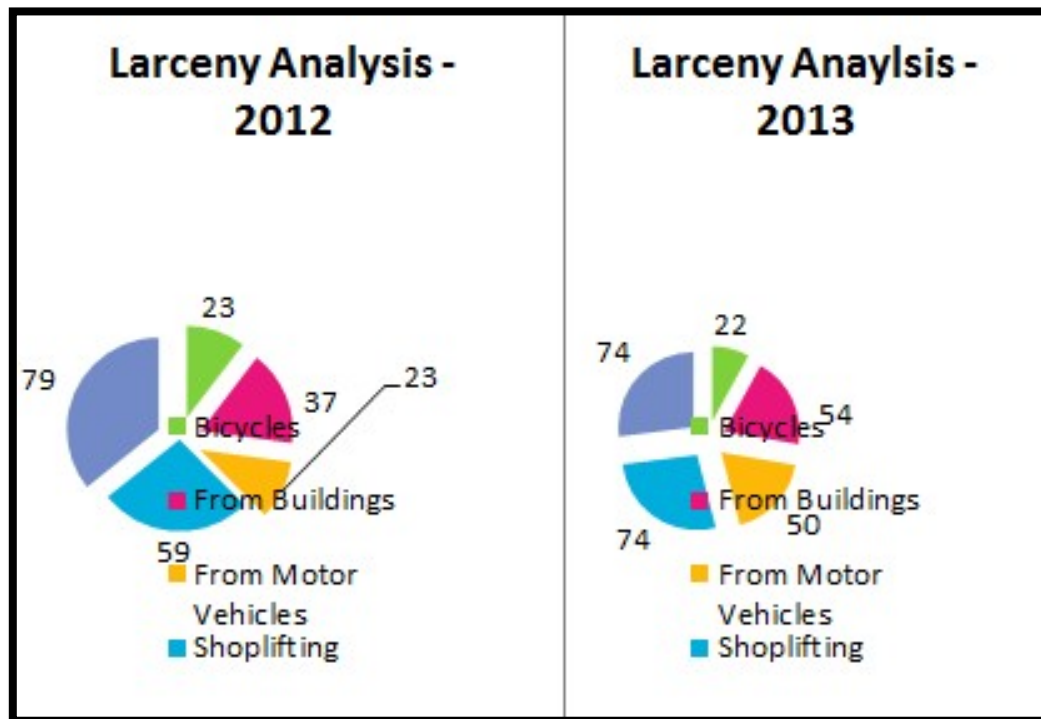

The Uniform Crime Reporting (UCR) Program divides offenses into two groups, Part I and Part II crimes. Each month, participating law enforcement agencies submit information on the number of Part I offenses that become known to them; those offenses cleared by arrest or exceptional means; and the age, sex, and race of persons arrested for each of the offenses. Contributors provide only arrest data for Part II offenses.

The UCR Program collects data about Part I offenses in order to measure the level and scope of crime occurring throughout the Nation. The program's founders chose these offenses because they are serious crimes, they occur with regularity in all areas of the country, and they are likely to be reported to police.

COMPUTER VOICE STRESS ANALYZER – CVSA 2013

The Department currently has two officers who are trained and certified to operate the Computer Voice Stress Analyzer. Det. Brian Choffin and Sgt. Matt Valenti spent two rigorous weeks training on the instrument and the art of deception. Both officers must be recertified to operate the instrument every two years which was accomplished in December 2013, in Elmira, New York.

The Computer Voice Stress Analyzer is a tool utilized by members of the Geneva Police Department to detect deception when interviewing individuals suspected of committing crimes within the city. Suspects are asked if they will voluntarily submit to a voice stress test. If they agree to submit to the test they are brought to a secured interview room where they are interviewed regarding the particular case. They are given a demonstration of the instrument and explained how it works. A microphone that is attached to the instrument is then placed on the individual and calibrated to their voice. The operator then asks the suspect a set of predetermined questions and other questions that they feel are important based on the pre interview. During the interview the instrument deciphers the stress level of the test subject's voice. Once the test is completed the operator evaluates the patterns on each chart tested. Based upon the instruments findings it is then determined if further interview of the test subject is warranted.

During the year 2013, there were twelve subjects who voluntarily submitted to the voice stress test. Five of the test subjects were suspects in active criminal investigations with seven of the test subjects submitting to the test for pre-employment purposes.

CVSA® Perfects Crime-Fighting Technology

Unlike the computer polygraph, the CVSA® requires no wires be attached to the subject being tested. The CVSA® uses only a microphone plugged into the computer to analyze the subject's responses. As the subject speaks, the computer displays each voice pattern, numbers it and saves each chart to file. Unlike the polygraph, drugs do not affect the results of the exam and there are no known counter-measures that will cause the ubiquitous "inconclusive" results associated with the polygraph.

The CVSA® is effective in all investigative situations such as homicide, sex crimes, robbery, white collar crimes, and internal affairs investigations, as well as pre-employment examinations for background investigators. The system has also proven itself a very reliable investigative tool for verifying statements of witnesses, denials of suspects, and for determining the validity of allegations made against police officers. Micro tremors are tiny frequency modulations in the human voice. When a test subject is lying, the automatic, or involuntary nervous system, causes an inaudible increase in the Micro tremor's frequency. The CVSA® detects, measures, and displays changes in the voice frequency.

A state-of-the-art computer processes these voice frequencies and graphically displays a picture of the voice patterns. The CVSA® is not restricted to "yes" and "no" answers and is able to analyze accurately, tape recordings of unstructured conversations.

2013 SCHOOL RESOURCE OFFICER REPORT

DARE 2013

DARE

D.A.R.E. stands for Drug Abuse Resistance Education. It was started in the 1980's in California and has spread across the country. Geneva is celebrating its 22nd year of the D.A.R.E. program, which started in the 1989-1990 school year. There are four active D.A.R.E. Officers in the Geneva Police Department. They teach the 1st, 3rd, and 5th grades at West St. and North St. Schools, as well as St. Stephen's School.

During the 2013-2014 school years, the Geneva D.A.R.E. Officers taught approximately 160 students in the Geneva City School District, ranging in age from 5 to 14. The Geneva D.A.R.E. program is a partnership between the school district and the police department to teach safety and assist students with making healthy choices throughout their lives.

The D.A.R.E. curriculum is a classroom presentation to elementary students by a law enforcement officer in cooperation with a NYS certified teacher. The curriculum features both decision making and skill building models for effective ways to refuse drugs and make healthy decisions. Students are expected to foster a positive relationship with the D.A.R.E. Officer, participate in cooperative learning groups, participate in role-play activities and develop questions to promote higher level thinking.

SEX OFFENDER MANAGEMENT 2013

Currently there are six officers, an administrative aid and one sergeant assigned to the management of sex offenders residing within the city. Responsibilities of the officers include monthly residence checking where officers stop and speak with each sex offender at their residence to confirm residency and investigations of alleged violations. Staff is also responsible for maintaining a ninety day verification log for all level 3 sex offenders, sexual predators, change of address updates as well as updated photos.

Investigations are conducted on all sex offenders who fail to notify this agency of a change of address as well as any complaints received from the public regarding a sex offender. Currently there are thirty-five NYS registered sex offenders residing within the City of Geneva. This is a 45% increase from 2012. NYS sex offender registry divides sex offenders into three levels with level 3 being assigned to individuals who pose a high risk to repeat their behavior and level 1 being the lowest level assigned. Currently there are five level 3, thirteen level 2 and sixteen level 1 sex offenders residing within the City of Geneva. Six investigations were conducted regarding Sex Offenders who fail to notify their change of address. The investigations resulted in two Arrests.

The Sex Offender Registration Act (Correction Law Article 6-C) , known as SORA, established a Sex Offender Registry within the New York State Division of Criminal Justice Services. SORA was enacted to assist local law enforcement agencies and to protect communities by: 1) requiring sex offenders to register with the State; and, 2) providing information to the public about certain sex offenders living in their communities. SORA took effect on January 21, 1996.

SORA requires the registration of individuals convicted in New York State of certain sex offenses as well as the registration of those individuals convicted in another jurisdiction if the offense is equivalent to a New York addition, if the individual is registration in the is convicted of one or more the individual will be Individuals convicted of or after the effective date Division. Due to litigation in federal court, certain level 2 and level 3 offenders are not in the Subdirectory at this time. Once these offenders have had an opportunity for a due process hearing to determine the risk level, and if their risk level is determined to be level 2 or level 3, they will be included in the Subdirectory.

POLICE OFFICER

A Police Officer is many things. They are a Son/Daughter, a Brother/Sister, a Father/Mother, an Uncle/Aunt, and sometimes, even a Grandfather/Grandmother. They are a protector in time of need and a comforter in time of sorrow. Their job calls for them to be a diplomat, a psychologist, a lawyer, a friend, and an inspiration. They suffer from an overdose of publicity and brutality and dishonesty. They suffer far more from the notoriety produced by unfounded charges. Too often acts of heroism go unnoticed and the truth is buried under all the criticism. The fact is that less than one half of one percent of Police Officers ever discredits their uniform.

A Police Officer is an ordinary person who is called upon for extraordinary bravery -- for us! Their job may sometimes seem routine but the interruptions can be moments of stark terror. They are the people who face a half-crazed gunman, who rescue a lost child, who challenge a mob, and who risk their necks more often than we realize. They deserve our respect and profound thanks.

A Police Officer stands between the law-abider and the law-breaker. Try to imagine what might happen if there were no more Police Officers around, and then try to think of ways to make their job more rewarding. Show them the respect you really have; offer them a smile and a kind word; see that they don't have to be magicians to raise their families on less than adequate salaries.

We think Police Officers are great. We thank God for all of the little boys/girls who said that they would be a Police Officer and who kept their promise. We hope you'll feel the same way and we hope you'll show it -- so there will always be enough good Police Officers to go around.

Today they might give you a speeding ticket. Tomorrow it might be their lives. Their job is to protect you from others and others from you. They know it. That's why they can be a Police Officer.

So when you need help, call a friend, call a Police Officer.
